Dear Mr. Sharp:

I read your paper regularly, and was interested in your editorial in reply to one from the Lake Worth Herald, wherein you asked "What other measures" could the Legislature have enacted except the measures that we did enact with reference to race.

I cannot agree with this inference. To do so would be to admit that there was no one in the Legislature who could or would draft, prepare or suggest any measures relating to taxation. It has been admitted that the taxation

On many occasions, I personally appeared before the committee on finance and taxation, and tried with them to listen to reason, and to other suggestions. I pointed out to them that presumably we were all working to the same common end, to-wit: tax relief, but that we simply had different ideas as to how best accomplish this noble use of worthy object. I pointed out that the committee had no constitutional authority to take the Brown-Crummer bills, and was appointed by the committee, particularly Mr. Tomassello and Chairman McKenna; that the committee had no right to legislate, and that it did not need any legal advice; that the bills that were prepared were the products of the best legal minds in the State of Florida.

"One of the greatest secrets of success on the Mayaca Farms is perfect water control. When there is too much water there can eliminate the surplus and when there is not enough they simply reverse their pumps and send water in abundance through the ditches. Thence it seeps out through the land.

"As a result, all the trees are in the most healthy condition in-inable. And I have just been informed by Manager Hoenshel that he can produce oranges the third year of a young orange tree's growth. In fact he now has some young trees growing oranges in their third year. This would have been laughed at as impossible a few years ago. Now we see it as a fact right here in Martin county as a result of highly scientific farming. There are 600 acres of citrus trees on the place, and I understand the number is to be still

What seems almost a miracle has been performed by Manager Hoenshel with his avocado trees. In the great storm of September 1928, the young, first-year avocado trees were blown to the ground and practically uprooted. Manager Hoenshel had them reset some, carefully, and many others very carefully and now they are not only alive but as healthy and vigorous as any three or four year old avocado trees you would want to see. This 'miracle' is brought about through the heavy type of soil, and above everything else, the constant water table."

NEWS FROM AROUND THE BIG LAKE

SOUTH BAY

The Community church held a flying visit at the home of G. J. Barstow the latter part of the week.

The Epworth League contest came to a close last Friday night with the side captained by Phyllis Sherman leading by fifty-five points. The losing side captained by Dela Hawkins will entertain the winners at a party at the home of Byron McAllister next Friday evening. There were fifty young people present last Friday night, which is an indication that the League is still growing. In fact, it has grown in number to such an extent that it may be considered advisable to divide it into two groups, the junior and senior groups, each with their own organization and officers. Both the young people themselves and those sponsoring the organization are taking this matter under careful advisement and as all hope it will only be a question of time until the younger members have their own organization.

After the close of the program which was well rendered by all participants and much enjoyed by those present, all adjourned to the school lawn where the basket dinner was spread on a large table which fairly groined with its load of delicious and appetizing dishes to which the assembled company did full justice. There were over sixty present on this happy occasion and everyone expressed the hope that it would not be long until we can repeat this justification.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Forbes and infant daughter Patricia Lee moved out from Lake Worth the first of the week and took up their residence in their home.

T. H. Monk, manager of the Miami branch of the International Harvester Co., accompanied by one of the national officers made a

The Ladies' Aid of the Community church met on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. H. C. Willis. The devotional exercises were led by Mrs. Barstow who presented a reading which told the story of how the first four gospels of the New Testament came to be written and the instrumentality of John and Mark in this great work. The society decided that hereafter such a time as the church building could be completed and a regular meeting place provided they would meet with the various members of the society taking turns in alphabetical order. The next meeting will be on Tuesday, Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Barstow. All ladies of the community who are interested are invited to be present. The squad has been divided into two teams with their captains and expect to put in some very effective practice from now on.

Around The Lake

The town being supplied with fully as many retail stores as the business of the town calls for, merchants at Clewiston are trying to induce residents to patronize the home stores and not buy in West Palm Beach.

About 500 taxpayers in Glades county have taken advantage of the 4 per cent discount allowed on taxes paid in November.

County Commissioners Potter, Hahn and Egan are due to be tried at the December term of Okeechobee county court for letting D. R. McNeil, president of the Peoples Bank, draw down $50,000 Liberty bonds that secured a county deposit of $10,000.

The R. Doe of Moore Haven who has leased the Johnson dairy at Clewiston is not the R. Doe of Pahokee. The names and initials being identical it causes confusion to both parties.

A section of the "Everglades," the A. C. L.'s fast train between Boston and Florida, now runs in to Moore Haven, carrying a Pullman to the Glades county town. Joe Kahn is closing out his store at Labelle and moving the store to Belle Glade, where he thinks there is a better opening, as there is only one other dry goods store in Belle Glade.

Lacking a church building or other place of meeting, Sunday school is held in I. W. West's store at Chosen. It is hoped to organize a congregation soon. Rev. J. H. Leatherman, head of the flock at Chosen for many years, has lived in West Palm Beach since the storm and visits Chosen only occasionally.

1,200 ACRES OF BEANS AT CENTER HILL; 200 CARS

There are about 1,200 acres of beans in the Center Hill district (Sumter county) and the production will amount to about 200 cars, J. A. Kimbrough said Monday on his return from a week-end visit to that district. Express lots went forward from Center Hill last week and car lots will move in the same time as the Everglades' first crop. Center Hill will have no mid-winter crop, however, and when the 200 cars are out that will be all until spring, Mr. Kimbrough says.
